State Items.

A SAD INCIDENT.—A citizen of this county was found on Monday morning hanging dead to a tree near his residence. We refrain from giving names and circumstances until the incidents come to us better authenticated. We will give the full particulars to-morrow.—Salisbury Banner.

DIED IN PRISON.—A man named Wm. Wise died in Craven Street Jail, Newbern, on Saturday night last. He had been under sentence of death before the war for murder, and was in prison awaiting trial for the murder of a young man named Charles May, at Batchelor's Creek, since last July.

We understand that in the course of a few weeks the State Journal, will be revived by its old editor and proprietor, Mr. John Spelman, at Newbern, N. C.

The Mayor of Newbern has gone on a visit to New Jersey.

ARRIVED.—The Steamer Louisa Moore, Wooster, of the Murray line, at Newbern, has arrived from New York with a good passenger list and a heavy freight for Newbern and Raleigh.

PROBABLY WRECKED.—The following is a memorandum taken on board the steamship Louisa Moore: "Nov. 3d, 1865, 7 A. M., Hatteras Shoals, bearing south-west two (2) miles distant, fell in with fragments of a wreck, apparently a steamer, a raft, life preserver, and a box marked P. D. N. O. Supposed to belong to the steamer Republic.

THE INQUEST upon the body of John Connell, who was murdered in his room at the old Franklin Hotel, Wilmington, last week, was concluded about 1½ P. M., on Saturday. The verdict was, that he came to his death from blows inflicted on his head by some person unknown to the jury. There is something remarkably strange and mysterious in this affair. The very house in which this brutal murder occurred, is occupied, perhaps, by a dozen people or more, and yet this man, supposed to have been beaten to death on Tuesday night last, was not discovered by any of the many occupants until Friday morning.

A man by the name of Brock, was suspected of the crime and arrested, but the evidence in no wise implicating him, he was discharged.

A SAD CASUALTY.—Near Winton, on Monday evening last, while returning home from town, John Grubbs, a respectable citizen of that county, came to his death by the flight of his horses. He was found shockingly mutilated and crushed, from the effects of which he died within a few hours.

The schooner Fannie, bound from New York to Wilmington, foundered at sea on the 26th ult., during the late gale. The captain, passengers and crew, seven in number, were picked up. One man washed overboard.

The steamer North Carolina, reached Wilmington from Fayetteville at an early hour yesterday morning. Her captain reports a rise of five feet in the Cape Fear at Fayetteville on Friday at 12 o'clock M. The river was still rising, and rain still falling rapidly.

—There are twenty men to each woman in Idaho.

—Poland has now no longer a university within its limits.

—John Forsyth is a candidate for Congress in the Mobile District.

—The Fenians are making considerable purchases of firearms in New York.

—Benjamin G. Humphreys is the only Whig ever elected Governor in Mississippi.

—The Washington Monument Society want about $800,000 from Congress to carry up the shaft.

—Gen. C. A. Battle is out for Congress in the Third Congressional District in Alabama.

—A man in Birmingham run his pipe stem into his tongue and died from the resulting abscess.

—In the month of October, 84,000 barrels of powder were shipped South and 1,500 fowling pieces.

—Two hundred and five German immigrants arrived in Baltimore from Bremen direct last Friday.

—Miss Flutter, who teases her father at an inopportune moment for a "waterfall," received two damns instead.

—Thus far, in the current cotton year, beginning with Sept. 1, the receipts at all the shipping ports reach 300,000 bales.

—There is much contest for churches between rival churches in Virginia. Would it not be better to have the contest for souls?

—The receipts for customs in New York during the month of October amounted to the unprecedented sum of $10,000,000 in gold.

—The Tribune says there are eighty Republican speakers now canvassing New Jersey, and addressing large assemblages every night.

—The return of one election precinct in Philadelphia is missing, and it is said to have been destroyed in a quarrel between two ward officers.

—A Birmingham physiologist, one Dr. Bennet, has started the theory that there are six senses, instead of five. This he calls the sense of weight.

—According to the proportion of the wealth of the national debt of the two countries, the debt of Canada is twenty-five per cent. greater than that of the United States.

—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher publicly declares that, after two long interviews, he is confident that President Johnson's course is right, and expresses the greatest confidence in him.

—Several new cases of cholera on board the steamship Atlanta, at the New York quarantine, are reported by the physician in charge, but the disease is still confined to the steerage, none of the cabin passengers having yet been attacked. The Governor of New Jersey has issued a proclamation calling on the municipalists and individuals to look after their sanitary conditions.

—On the 27th ultimo a steamer, supposed to be a Government transport, was discovered by the steamer Weybosset to be on fire, in the vicinity of Cape Hatteras. The burning steamer was distant about fifteen miles, and before the Weybosset could reach her she blew up. The effect of the explosion was tremendous. It is supposed the crew of the steamer was rescued by a bark, which was seen alongside when she was first discovered by the Weybosset.

—General Spinner, Treasurer of the United States, received a letter the other day from the cashier of a National Bank of the South, stating that the bank had on deposit about a quarter of a million of dollars belonging to the Government, and stating that, if the money would be left there people would begin their town and plant crops, and that a considerable amount could be raised this. His reply was a draft for the amount due.

THE CITY.

—Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

THE ELECTION YESTERDAY.—The election yesterday for governor and a complete list of State officers, passed off without any manifestations of ill-feeling or other excess to which objection could be made. The friends of the different candidates were active and confident, and so the day passed.

At the close of the polls three lusty cheers were given for Holden.

FEATS AT THE FIRE.—During the progress of the fire last Thursday night, we noticed many acts of disinterested labor and some feats of daring. It is admitted on all hands that Maj. Basil Manly, of this city, deserves much praise for his active personal efforts. Had his suggestions been carried into execution at the moment of their occurrence, no one can doubt but that some of the buildings would have been saved.

Private L. P. Higgins, Co. H, 120th Indiana volunteers, deserves special mention. Mrs. Harrison had succeeded in removing everything except jewelry and clothing. Two persons standing near entered the burning house, but were driven back by the intensity of the heat around and above them. At this juncture the young soldier mentioned came up, ascertained the condition of affairs, rushed into the house, secured the valuables, and emerged just as the roof and flooring fell in. His hat was scorched to a crisp and one moment later he would have been buried in the ruins.

Mr. John Flair, employed in Johnson's restaurant, seeing the danger to the market house, is reported to us as having ascended the steeple of that edifice at imminent peril to himself and constantly deluged it with water. It is said that except for his endeavors, connected with those of Mr. Henry Hardy, the market house would have taken fire, as the heat was almost insufferable and the ascent difficult.

Doubtless other persons rendered efficient aid, but these marked cases have been brought to our attention and we give them the credit due such behaviour.

BOOTS AND OVERCOAT.—In yesterday's issue Lt. Castleman advertised for a pair of boots and overcoat, under the impression that they had been appropriated. He had evidently become oblivious of the fact that the articles mentioned had been entrusted to one of our most respectable and high minded citizens, who deposited them in the office of Capt. A. M. Garoutte. Lieut. C. certainly failed to remember the circumstance from the fact that he was excited about the conflagration and went to work in a hurry to help subdue it.

Mr. Randall, of the Exchange Hotel, in a note to us on the subject, says:

"I deem it but justice to say that Lieut. Castleman would not have caused to be published the advertisement had he known the high character of the gentleman to whom he entrusted the articles. I hope the party interested will receive the apology which I make on Lieut. Castleman's behalf, who is absent from the city. L. G. RANDALL."

W. & W. RAILROAD.—The thirteenth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad will be held in the former place on the 22nd inst.

MAIL ARRANGEMENTS.—The restoration of mail service in the South is now going forward with commendable rapidity. We observe that E. O. Macy and Jesse L. Garrett, of this city, have received appointments as route agents, the first on the Raleigh and Gaston, and the last on the North Carolina railroad. Besides, J. G. Long has been placed on the Western North Carolina, and E. Lyles, of Charlotte, and Wm. Jones, of Washington, D. C., on the Charlotte and Columbia roads.

It is now promised that mail matter shall reach Raleigh from Washington in twenty-three hours and a half. We sincerely trust the expectation thus created may not be disappointed.

PRACTICAL LESSONS.—Public events, actual occurrences, are strong teachers. We hope the recent fire will be proof enough of the good policy of organizing here a fire Department. This paper many time and again urged such a course and now we have had the idea enforced in most melancholy colours. Not a day of unnecessary delay should take place in the procurement of hose and other apparatus. This done, the commissioners should encourage the formation of hook and ladder as well as hose companies. Then, with an efficient police, we ought to live in peace and safety.

THE LATE RAINS—we are informed—did considerable damage to many bridges over creeks in the surrounding country. The fall of water was so great that the trains on several of the railroads leading to the city were obstructed at many points and in other instances altogether stopped by the washing away of bridges. We are glad to know travel northward by way of Petersburg has been resumed. The route by way of Goldsboro is also in trim.

INSURANCE.—All at once business men and property holders have become impressed with the value of insurance and we heard, yesterday, of no less than six persons who had covered all their earthly possessions with such protection. We commend to others who wish to effect insurance the companies of which John G. Williams is the agent in our city. They are safe and reliable, having a clear capital of $2,000,000.

ANOTHER BANK.—We learn that Geo. W. Swepson, Esq., has obtained a charter and will establish a national bank at Salisbury soon. If little Salisbury can afford one such institution, big Raleigh ought to have two or three. We can't permit the small fry keep in line with the capitol city.

THE FEELING IN ALABAMA.—The Huntsville Advocate of the 26th October says:

Marshall county has taken the right position openly before the world. She has set an example that all the counties in the State should at once follow.—Her people—such men as Harris, Beard, Sheffield, Wiggs, Critcher, Barclay, Faries—once secessionists, Union men, civilians and tried soldiers—say "the Flag of the Union is our Flag, and we pledge ourselves to protect the same, when and wherever assailed." The people of Marshall will be true to their public pledge. Again they say, "we accept the extinction of slavery as an accomplished fact, and that we will co-operate with all good men, everywhere, to make the new relation of the white and black races as pleasant and profitable as possible." This ought to be the resolve of every good citizen, and will lead to good results. The whole duty of all is embraced in the declaration, "that it is our duty to obey in good faith the laws of the land. State and National, and co-operate with every effort made to restore peace, law and order." Obey the laws, support the Government in enforcing them and "peace, law and order" will at once reign over the land.—One law requires a certain oath from all U. S. office holders, Congressmen included—let us obey that law by electing men who can honestly take it, thus get admitted and aid our people. All honor to the honest and patriotic people of Marshall for the noble stand taken! May the example be followed by Madison and all other counties!

FRIDAY, NOV. 10, 1865.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL,
NEW YORK, Oct. 2, 1865.

I left Mr. Willard's tavern, at Washington, by the gray light of the early morn, and taking the through ten hour train, find myself in New York in time for supper.

I spent five days pleasantly and I trust profitably in Washington, but from a close and personal inspection I must say that Washington is not exactly what it was in former years—before the war. Washington, in army parlance, is demoralized. Not that the old population there are any the less refined and virtuous than they have always been, or that the people of the North are worse than those of the South, but the fact is it is one of the results of the war through which we have passed, and no particular section or community are responsible for it. We were told by citizens that the population was increased by roughs and bands, during the war, to the extent of twenty or thirty thousand, and that, as a consequence, the Washington of old remained in doors. Now, however, the drift-wood is passing away, the war being over, and Washington, the Washington of old, when a man could walk three squares at night without losing his life, is warming into life again, and on fair days may be seen on Pennsylvania Avenue.

The ladies of Washington are surpassingly beautiful, and when they do show themselves entrance all beholders. Fashions though, to an outside barbarian who has been shut up in the "Confederacy," are amusing if not worse. The waterfalls I had got used to before I reached Washington, for every nig—, beg pardon, every freedwoman in the South has a waterfall; but there are other recent features in the style of ladies dress that I was not so familiar with. In the first place, next to the waterfall, or below it, every woman here wears a colored petticoat, and having always been used to white ones, it looked, at first, rather odd, but now that I am getting used to them—or the sight of them—I see there is good sense and good philosophy in them. They hide dirt, and being made of woolen goods, are warm and comfortable; and then if anything looks horrid it is a draggled white petticoat. This is all very well, but then as to length: I like to see things decently arranged and in harmony, and I never could appreciate, as a matter of taste, the low neck dresses sometimes worn by the ladies, though what they leave bare, if the proportions be good, is pleasing to the eye of man: but if in connection or conjunction with this the present fashion of tucking up the dress at the skirt continues, the neck lowered and the tail hoisted, a ridiculous spectacle will soon be presented. We like to see all the garments of the ladies short enough to keep them out of the mud as they walk, but not high enough to unsex the wearer. But as fashion runs everything into extremes, there's no telling how high they'll hoist 'em. Enough, however, of Washington and its beauties.

Once seated at the Washington depot, you need not leave your place in the car until you reach New York, if you don't want to, for the same coach carries you all the way through to Jersey City.—This is a decided improvement on the old schedule of five years ago, and then the trip is made in ten hours.

Richmond, Washington and Baltimore are all some in their way, but it is at New York that the traveller strikes "ile." Here shoddy and petroleum are on top, sure; and though the cauldron that boiled here five years ago served, then, to interest the stranger, it would be as nothing to the present seething mass.

But from Washington here without sleeping or eating tires a fellow, and as I am to remain some days I will close for the present, promising the readers of the Progress to commune with them again soon.

P.

FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL,
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.

When I arrived here on Thursday night a cold, chilly rain was falling, which continued with but slight intermission until last night. This morning (Sunday) the sun came out, the atmosphere was several degrees colder, and a fair day promised, but now, 11 A. M., it is getting cloudy, it is growing colder, and there will in all probability be more rain, or snow, within the next twenty-four hours.

Five years forms a considerable chapter in the life of a man, and produces great changes in the general appearance of a community or city: these changes in New York, though remarkable to those who have been here all the time, are still more astonishing to one who has been absent since 1860. The town is still pressing to the upper part of the Island of Manhattan, and the vicinity of this hotel, 23d street, nearly four miles from the battery, which I found a most quiet and pleasant retreat five years ago, is now nearly as bustling as in the regions around the Astor House and City Park. So far from seeing the grass which secession leaders assured us would grow in Broadway as the result of the withdrawal of our trade, I have no hesitation in expressing the belief that the improvements in this city have been more extensive, marked and rapid since the commencement of the war than ever before. The mammoth hotels are all filled, and I hear it has been determined to construct another, at the Central Park, two miles above the Fifth Avenue, which is to be on a larger and more magnificent scale than anything yet erected in the city.

The fact that a steamer has arrived at Sandy Hook, fifteen miles below the city, with cholera on board, has caused some excitement, but nothing like a panic. You will get the particulars from the papers before this reaches you.

Elections take place in New York and New Jersey on Tuesday next, and for the present politics seems to swallow up almost everything else. The Democratic leaders profess to be confident of carrying both States, but I think it very doubtful about their carrying either of them.

The condition of things in Mississippi, except disturbances, and Seward's order to Gov. Sharkey to hold on, don't look much like getting back into the Union. I find all with whom I come in contact here most kindly disposed towards the South and anxious for the work of restoration to be completed; but there is at the same time a general apprehension that the representatives from the States that have been in rebellion will be refused admission when Congress assembles. This apprehension renders business men impatient and feverish. There is no want of confidence—the merchants here are willing to sell to our people and to indulge them, provided we are to have peace and a restored Union; but as long as the readmission of the States is in doubt, so long will merchants and capitalists, in the North, hesitate about investments in the South.

A confidence man, who has been playing foreign count, and who has turned the heads of half the young ladies of New York, was arrested in this hotel on Thursday and is now in prison. He was no count, but a base counterfeit, though the young ladies aforesaid did no know that until he was unfrocked.—Humbug and imposture thrives here to a much greater extent than in the country. The great mass of the men and women of this great metropolis seem to think about little but dress and show, and the passion for these paves the way to crime in all circles of society. Crime used to be confined largely to the lower classes, but now, though gilded over, I believe the "better classes," or wealthy circles, are really more depraved and corrupt than the lower or poor people of the city. Following in the wake of European cities, the fashionables of New York have turned day into night and night into day. They dine from six to nine, and then commences a series of carousals and dissipations that end at three and four. Next day is spent in sleep and preparations for the next night's round, by the females, while the males rise late, consume a hasty breakfast, and then spend the time till three and four in the cauldron that boils round and round on Wall street, where gold, stocks and petroleum are all in all. When we consider that it requires from twenty to fifty thousand a year to enable a family to move in good society in this christian city, we need not be surprised at the Ketchum case or others like it constantly occurring.

The theatres are all in full blast, and all well filled, though most of the performers and performances are common-place enough. The Ravels are at Niblos, John Broughman, after a five years' absence in Europe, is playing a short engagement at Winter Garden; and Chanfreau, the commedian, is playing "Sam" at the Broadway.

I shall leave for home some time this week, but fear I shall not arrive in time to vote in the election on Thursday next. I trust, however, my vote will not be wanting to elect Gov. Holden. If the people are wise they should give him a unanimous vote.—Let them learn wisdom from the condition of things in Mississippi and the order of Secretary Seward to Gov. Sharkey to hold on till further orders. I have nothing to utter against Mr. Worth, but it is well known that he is the candidate of the Confederate party, and as such, the people must repudiate him if they expect to get back into the Union.

P.

The Northern Elections.

The success of the Union army, and the final surrender of the Confederate forces, demonstrated the fact that we had a Government, and now the success of the Republicans, the real friends of the Government, in the Northern elections, demonstrates the fact that the really loyal friends of the Government are to control it. The copperhead faction at the North have gone under, even in the State of New Jersey, and the outspoken, unconditional friends of the National Government are everywhere victorious. This is an important lesson for the people of the South, and we trust it may prove beneficial to them. They need no longer indulge the hope that Andrew Johnson is to be alienated from the great party that elected him, or that the copperheads and disaffected elements of the North and South can fuse and wrest the management and control of the Government from the hands of those who furnished the men and means to crush the rebellion and save the life of the nation. To be plain, the Republican party, that party that elected Abraham Lincoln in 1860 and re-elected him in 1864, are everywhere triumphant—they control the Government at present, and are to control it for at least two more Presidential terms, if not longer, and whatever the South is to receive in the matter of grace, favor and justice must come through them. Nor are they our enemies. W. H. Seward, a leader and representative man of this party, is as good a friend to the South as Andrew Johnson, and will direct all the energies of his great mind and give all the weight of his influence to restore the revolted States to the Union, and their people to all their social and political rights. Certain important points have got to be yielded by the South, however, and the sooner our people realize the fact the better. We must ignore all debts, acknowledge the freedom of the black man and give him, by our local laws, the rights and protection of a free person; and we have got to ratify, as States, the Constitutional amendment declaring slavery abolished throughout the country. These are conditions that must be complied with before any State will have a representation in Congress, but when these conditions are complied with, we do not believe that any effort will be made to deprive us of representation. After the States shall all have been re-admitted in the Union, shall be fully restored, we may begin to think about and discuss constitutional rights; but now that we occupy the position of suppliants for pardon at the feet of the conqueror, the discussion or agitation of Constitutional questions by us, is ridiculous and absurd. We shall have rights and may demand them after we get back into the Union, but, as conquered rebels under martial law, the least we say about such matters the better.

The Republican party has triumphed, and we are glad of it, for in its success we have an assurance that the Government is to be preserved. The treasonable excrescence of democracy, the Breckinridge faction, lead in the work of destruction, and were mainly responsible for all the country has suffered; and if the copperheads of the North and the disaffected of the South had succeeded in wresting the Government from the steady hands that now control it, they would have precipitated us into another war in less than five years. Let copperhead papers and disaffected leaders remember, hereafter, that when they refer to the radicals of the North, they speak of the President and his Cabinet, and those who have the control of both houses of Congress, through whose hands and from whom all we hope to get is to come.

Henry Wirz and Jefferson Davis.

Wirz, the small traitor, is to suffer the extreme penalty of the law, for his many crimes, to-day, by being hanged until he is dead, and there is not a loyal man or woman in the land but will say that he deserved his fate. Wirz is a small traitor, however, who, in his brutal treating and murdering of Union prisoners, was only carrying out the orders of his superiors; and if for this he deserved death, what should be the fate of those whose instrument he was? The finding of the court and the death sentence was read to Wirz on Monday, and the sentence will be executed to-day. We have heard of no petitions being circulated in favor of this poor devil; but, as sympathizing ladies and devout parsons are wholly engaged in their efforts to save the neck of the big traitor, we suppose they have no thought for the small one. Davis, the big traitor, in whose behalf "Confederate" sympathizers are so industriously engaged, will have a hearing soon; and we trust that the trial will be before a civil tribunal, and that it will be fair and impartial. Let all the facts be placed before the world so that all may know which of the two, Davis or Wirz, did most to torture or murder the Union prisoners at Andersonville. It was well known to the people throughout the "Confederacy," that the prisoners at that detestable pen were treated more like brutes than men, and had the influence of those who ruled at Richmond been as great in that as in the matter of hunting up and running down conscripts, the inhuman outrages could have been prevented. Certainly the prompt finding and sentence in the case of Wirz is not calculated to increase the hope of the Davis sympathizers, and yet we suppose petitions will continue to circulate. The Government may care as little about these petitions, however, as did Southern members of Congress care about those ponderous rolls laid before that body in 1860-'61, signed by Northern people, imploring them in heaven's name not to break up the Government.

We can say in all sincerity to the ladies and preachers who are so active in Mr. Davis' behalf, and who were largely instrumental in "firing the Southern heart," starting the war and ruining the South, that their labors will not assist in the work of restoration, and that if they would but reflect a moment they would see that it would be better to leave those in authority to treat with treason and traitors. No injustice will be done Mr. Davis by those who control the Government he tried so hard to destroy.

Letter from Gen. Sherman.

[From the Boston Post.]

The following is a copy of a letter written by General Sherman to a Methodist minister in Baltimore, who had complained to him of his refusal to allow the agents of Massachusetts to enlist negroes in his department, &c.:

ATLANTA, Sept. 13.

"To——, No.— Calvert Street, Baltimore:

"Sir—Yours of August 29 is received. Thank you for your kind expressions.

"Iron is iron and steel is steel, and all the popular clamor on earth will not impart to one the qualities of the other. So a "nigger" is not a white man, and all the psalm-singing on earth will not make him so. It is strange to me that among the people North and South, who have so much common sense, you can't say 'nigger,' but both parties make fools of themselves—and it is hard to say which are the worst. When we settle this little fight on hand, the great 'nigger' question will be found settled also.

W. T. SHERMAN, M. G.

Pardoned, Paroled and in Prison.

Col. Lubbock, of Texas, late of President Davis's Staff, and Col. B. N. Harrison, the latter's private Secretary, are still in confinement at Fort Delaware. Col. Johnston, who was also of the staff, is at liberty on parole.

Mr. Mallory, late Confederate States Secretary of the Navy, is in prison at Fort Lafayette, in New York harbor. We are sorry to learn that his health is much impaired by his confinement.

C. C. Clay, Esq., is still confined at Fortress Monroe, and Mr. Seddon at Fort Pulaski.

Colonel Lubbock's detention is understood to be due to a demand made by Mr. Hamilton, present provisional Governor of Texas. Messrs. Seddon and Clay have been thus far refused the indulgence of a parole on account, as is believed, of the Saint Alban's raid, and their supposed connection with it.

Col. Northrup, late Commissary General of the C. S. Army, has been released from his confinement in Richmond city, and is at liberty on parole.

Judge Reagan, late Confederate Postmaster General, has been for a few days in Richmond, on his way to Texas. He is looking well.

THE TRIAL OF MR. DAVIS.—The Cabinet at Washington has had under consideration, for some days past, the question of the trial of Mr. Davis. The members are by no means a unit as to the course to be adopted. The President is said to be opposed to his trial by military commission, while several members are known to favor that mode of trial. It is also known that Chief Justice Chase is not desirous of presiding at his trial. Definite action will, probably, be arrived at in his case in a few days.—Rich. Enquirer.

THE WAR IN SOUTH AMERICA.—The bark Catherine Mauve has arrived at Boston with Buenos Ayres dates to September 23, being eleven days later. The war between the allied powers and Paraguay still continued. The former had recently gained an important victory, having captured the town of Uruguayna and 5,000 Paraguayan prisoners, after a siege of six weeks. The prisoners were immediately disposed of by being drafted into the allied army to fight against their countrymen. The victory caused great rejoicing at Buenos Ayres.

WATERFALLS.—The New York Observer publishes a letter written more than thirty years ago by Rev. Dr. Judson, on the vanity of the heathen women, in which he cites as one proof of their heathenish customs that the Karen women wore fancifully constructed bags, enclosing the hair, and suspended from the back part of the head. The origin of "waterfalls" is now explained.

SATISFIED AMBITION.—Some years ago, Senator Borland, of Arkansas, in reply to a challenge sent by the Hon. T. B. Flournoy, said that he was "sufficiently shot at in Mexico to satisfy the ambition of any man." It is hoped that all who have participated in our late civil war are equally satisfied.

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM!

LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!

NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.

Messrs. Herring & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.

Truly yours,
P. T. BARNUM,

HERRING'S PATENT CHAMPION SAFES.

The most reliable protection from fire now known.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1865.

The Great Invention of the Age in Hoop Skirts.

J. W. BRADLEY'S NEW PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, (OR DOUBLE) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION CONSISTS OF DUPLEX (OR two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm-Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all other.

The Hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the Single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WESTS', BRADLEY & CARY, (late J. I. & J. O. West,) Proprietors of the Invention, and sole manufacturers, 97 Chambers and 79 & 81 Reade Streets, New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

DAILY PROGRESS.

FRIDAY, NOV. 10, 1865.

One of Jonce Hooper's Best.

Old Col. D———, of the Mobile District, was one of the most singular characters ever known in Alabama. He was testy and eccentric, but possessed many fine qualities, which were fully appreciated by the people of the district. Many of his freaks are fresh in the memory of the "old uns" of Mobile, and all of them will tell you that the colonel, though hard to beat, was once taken in by a couple of legal tyros. It is George Woodard, I believe, that tells the story; but, however that may be, it is in keeping with others related of the old gentleman.

It seems that Col. D——— had a misunderstanding with the gentlemen alluded to and was not on speaking terms with them, although all of the three were professedly riding the circuit together. The young ones, being well aware of the colonel's irascible nature, determined, as they left one of the courts for another, to have some sport at his expense by the way. They accordingly got about a half an hour's start in leaving, and presently arrived at a broad, dark stream, that looked as if it might be a dozen feet deep, but which in reality was hardly more than as many inches. Crossing it, they lighted, pulling off their coats and boots, and sat down quietly to watch for the "old Tar-tar."

Jogging along, at length, up came the old fellow. He looked first at the youngsters, who were gravely drawing on their boots and coats, as if they had just had a swim—and then he looked at the broad creek that rolled before him like a fluent translucent star. The colonel was awfully puzzled.

"Is this creek swimming?" he growled, after a pause of some moments.

No reply was made—the young men simply mounted their horses and rode off some little distance and stopped to watch our hero.

The Colonel slowly divested himself of boots, coats, pantaloons and drawers. These he neatly tied up in his handkerchief, and hung them on the horn of his saddle. Then he re-mounted, and as he was a fat, short man, with a paunch of inordinate size, rather inadequate legs, a face like a withered appie, and a brown wig, there is no doubt he made an interesting picture as he bestrode his steed, with the "breeze holding gentle dalliance" with his only garment.

Slowly and cautiously did the old gentleman and his horse take the creek. Half a length and the water was not fetlock deep. Here the horse stopped to drink. A length and a half—and the stream no deeper! Thirty feet further, and a decided shoaling!

Here Colonel D—— reined up.

"There must," he said, "be a h—— of a swift, deep channel between this and the bank. See how the water runs! We will dash through!"

A sharp lash made the horse spring the watery waste, and another carried the horse and rider safely to the opposite bank. The creek was no where more than a foot deep.

A wild yell from the young 'uns announced their appreciation of the sport, as they galloped away.

"I'll catch you, you——rascals," was groaned between Col. D——'s teeth, and away he galloped in hot pursuit, muttering vengeance on his foes.

On—on they sped, pursuer and pursued. The youngsters laughed, yelled and screamed—the Colonel damned with mighty emphasis, while his shirt fluttered and cracked in the wind, like a loose flying jib.

On—on—and the pursuer reached the farm-house on the roadside. Their passing startled a flock of geese from the fence corner, which, as the Colonel dashed up, met him with out-stretched wings, elongated necks and hisses dire. His horse swerved suddenly and the Colonel was upon the ground in a most romantic "heap," with his brown wig by his side and his bundle of clothes scattered around!

The white-headed children of the house came out first, took a distant view of the monster, as it seemed to them, and then returned to report progress. After a little the father of the family came, and the affair being explained, assisted the colonel in making his toilet, colonel swearing and the countryman laughing all the while.

Dressed and remounted, our hero started off with a woful phiz, and was soon out of sight.
